

Trailer Transit

PROFILE

Trailer Transit*www.trailertransit.com*Headquarters: Porter, Ind.Service: Tow-away transportationPaul Kraker, vice president of*operations: "We're still the largest and the most prominent out there."

Trailer Transit serves the entertainment, government, military and portable machinery markets.

AN EFFECTIVE SOLUTION

Trailer Transit is the largest tow-away firm in the nation. It prides itself on giving its customers a cost-effective moving option.

Trailer Transit is the largest tow-away firm in the nation and it prides itself on giving its customers a cost-effective option for moving their trailers or trailer mounted and portable equipment.

Sticking to its niche – power-only or tow-away transportation services – has served Trailer Transit well since the company was founded in 1981, Vice President of Operations Paul Kraker states. The company started out moving new, empty trailers from the manufacturers to dealers and today is involved in a wide range of operations for the entertainment, government, military and portable machinery markets across the continental United States and Canada.

"Our 'cargo' is our customers' trailers or portable equipment," he says. "We custom-tailor transportation solutions to meet the specific needs of our clients, from cargo trailers to portable machinery, medical units to mobile classrooms, race-car trailers, sporting and entertainment equipment. The company is small by comparison to the trucking industry. We've been a leader in the industry from day one. Once people found there was a company that provided a reliable, cost-efficient way to get their equipment moved

